Supplement to the "History and Genealogical Record of One Branch of the Stilwell Family"

(66) ANDREW LOREN BUELL lives with his only daughter, Violet Irene Buell, at 915 22nd Ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

His wife, Teresa M. Buell, died May 3, 1927.

His only son, Loren F. Buell, died April 3, 1925.

The fact that Andrew L. Buell once saved the life of Mary Stilwell Gray was in some way omitted from our family history when printed. Mary was playing around the large water-trough, which stood back of the house near the kitchen door, when she fell in. Andrew Buell, who happened to be returning from the back lots, discovered her and made the rescue.

(67) CHARITY ALMIRA (STILWELL) SCEIBEL of Binghamton, N. Y., died April 4, 1922, aged 81 years.

(67) FENTON EMERSON STILWELL has changed his profession from an osteopath to an optometrist and was located at 1318 E. 120 Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

(68) JULIA CORDELIA (STILWELL) MASON died at her home in Binghamton, June 21, 1923, aged 64 years. Her husband, Edward Mason died June 6, 1922, aged 68 years.

(69) ARTHUR L. GUERNSEY of Hillsdale, Mich., says that on Jan. 1, 1921, he took the office of Probate Judge and is still holding it. He is still a bachelor, looking after the widows and orphans. He says that what is related of him in our history of the Stilwell family states the situation fairly. But he believes that what is said of him in church relationship draws too strong a picture. He says he is nominally in the Methodist Episcopal Church, where he was brought up, but that he is not an advocate of many of their doctrines. He says that he is a hater of Puritanism, a believer in most amusements, and inclined to liberal thinking on all religious subjects.
